FORTIFIED TALENT

A nutshell note on your niche and brand details!

We believe in incorporating various styles of ideology & philosophy from different eras of architectural history, so as to fulfill the functional & economic requirements the owner intends to serve. At the same time, evokes a positive emotional response from both its users & the public at large. Each project is carefully and individually planned with strong emphasis on design solutions to be harmonious with local, cultural and environmental settings.

What makes you a distinctive artist..?

Amongst the huge array of the variety of projects done, the Epsilon design practice, has created a niche for itself in the urban residential dwelling; be it the apartment located within a gated community, the stand alone residential within a satellite township, or the old family house that needs renovation, - we have enjoyed doing everything.

Last words, just for the audience at large!

As compared to classical tunes or contemporary melodious songs, the present genre of hip hop music goes instantly viral owing to the catchy beat and rhythm. However, most of these songs do not etch a memory in people's minds and often disappear without a trace. On the other hand, melodious music composed out of poetry, continues to be crooned, sung and listened to, agelessly. Similarly, the present trend of bold eclectic maximal approach to design might be considered a bright way to break the rules and catch one's attention but may outgrow our liking very soon. Contemporary minimal design, however, will continue to be ageless. In my opinion, Fusion of minimally designed spaces with eclectic or neo classical elements in the form of accents creating the right balance, should form the basis of good, ageless design in the years to come.
